

Blue Eye Defense is a team of security professionals and cutting edge A.I. software that analyzes and adapts over time to continually evolve and better protect your property.

The service operates via an on-premise server that connects to any existing or new CCTV or camera system which then sends alerts when someone is on your property.

Blue Eye Defense will decipher friend from foe and confront the potential threat through speakers installed around the property. If the individual does not leave, police/security are dispatched as appropriate to remove the intruder from the property. Blue Eye Defense uses audio interactions to address individuals in real-time by what they are wearing or doing.

" To the individual in the black sweatshirt trying to open the car door, leave the property now or the police will be notified! "

How do we use your cameras?

We connect to your cameras and our software learns your property. Installation is seamless and easy. It's plug-and-play and up in a day.

What is your defense against crime?

We use audio and scare intruders off your property, as well as greeting tenants onto your property. This allows us to develop a safe community and keep everyone who is on your property accountable. In other words... don't do anything weird, because you are being watched.

Who is watching your property?

Blue Eye trained operators receive alerts every time someone walks onto the property. From there they assess the situation and determine either use a verbal warning, friendly greeting.
